Can a simple app really give you super hero sight?

Crazy good vision sounds like something a character in a game might possess. This past week, Channel One News taught students that a researcher at the University of California has invented an app promising to bestow users with the gift of super sight in real life. Baseball players who used the Ultimeyes app for thirty 25-minute sessions were able to improve their vision by an average of 31 percent. What is even more impressive is that some players saw their vision go beyond normal 20/20 – 20/7.5. Sound too good to be true? Download the app and “see” for yourself.

- Penny Wars was quite the event this week. Results will be posted very soon! Many thanks to Mountain America Credit Union for graciously counting the pennies for us every day.
- The Accountability Committee is looking for parents, teachers, and PTO to join the committee. If you are interested please pick up an application at the main office.
- Remember to bring in your Box Tops. Each Box Top is worth 10 cents.

Success! Car Wash Fundraiser

Thank you to all those who donated time on their Saturday morning to help with the car wash. We had parents, teachers, students and their siblings! Thank you to those who brought their cars to be washed only to have them rained on later in the day. We appreciate your donations! We raised over $200.00 for P.E. equipment!
