

Friday

Facts

Our Korean Student Teachers are leaving us today. We want to thank them for coming to our school. We have loved having them in our classrooms. They have taught us so much, and we will miss them. We wish them luck in their future teaching careers.

February 20, 2015

In the News

Upcoming

- February 23 Minimum School Day
- February 25 SUPAF Strings
- February 26 Science Fair
- February 26 Stargazing Night

The Southern Utah Performing Arts Festival (SUPAF) has begun and our music students are participating. We appreciate the hard work Miss Stacy and the students have put in to prepare for this.

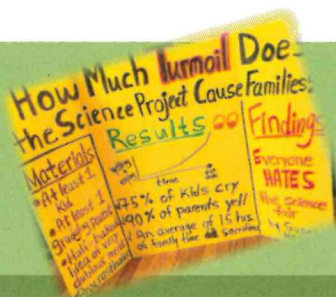

Rangers from the Grand Canyon visited our school this week and taught students how our National Parks are treasures. Students had the opportunity to create their own National Park, make ancient totems, learn the wingspan of a condor, examine skulls and much more! #engagedlearning

8th graders had the opportunity to learn life skills and college career preparation with the help of Wal-Mart associates.

The PTO is helping Valley build a library. Their first book donation drive is the first Monday in March. Find those gently loved books you aren't reading anymore and give the gift of reading to a child.

Jayden's Valentine might have been a royal flush, but he sure is an excellent helper in the lunchroom.

Is your Science Fair Project complete? Is your family relating to the picture on the left yet? Don't give up! Thursday is just around the corner and all your hard work will pay off. We cannot wait to see all the amazing projects!